Books! Books! Books!

How to Reproduce Them Quickly and Economically

WE present a new idea in book reproduction; something utterly unique and original, confident in the belief that the proposition we offer is what will attract your attention as against a very proper advertisement couched in just the language, so easy and satisfying to read. We make no pretense in this respect but confine ourselves solely to certain salient facts which, brought to your notice, will excite your interest and cause you to inquire further.

Years have been spent by us in the study and perfection of a photographic means of reproducing books of any and all description, and today, as a reward for our efforts, we boast of numerous prominent publishers who once, like ourselves, knew nothing of the Zincograph process, but who today employ it, confident, yes, certain, of the results. We take their book or books, photographically reproduce them page for page, enlarge or reduce as the case may be, use the kind of paper designated and print 100 or 1000 volumes from high speed offset presses, giving them finished work that equals and in most cases excels the original.

Resetting of type, proof-reading, electrotying, make-ready; all these avoided in the employment of our process. We have saved others time and expense; those who have become familiar with our organization and methods.

You have books for reproduction. Why not call us up or drop us a line? Our representative will gladly furnish you with any information you may require. He will tell you how to save time and money.

SOCIAL CONSCIENCE or Homocracy versus Monocracy

Story, Verse and Essay

By ADAM ABET

Twenty years of feeling, thought and labor—on the part of a keen student of life—produced the contents of this book. It is dedicated: "To lovers of sincerity everywhere in the cause of humane progress." Boldly, thoroughly and intensely humanitarian. The volume contains something of interest to almost everybody, from the story reader who likes to watch the flutter of a heart to the professor of psychology who delights in dissecting the human mind, and it appeals to all, from fresh blown revolutionary apostles on the war-path against injustice to grey-haired statesmen on the watch for ways and means of allaying social unrest.

12mo. Cloth bound, Substantial Stock. 474 pages. Price $3.00 a copy, Post paid.
Money refunded if book does not prove satisfactory.

No. 2

TIMELY TRUTHS ON HUMAN HEALTH

By SIMON LOUIS KATZOFF, A.M., M.D., LL.B.

A book born of the desire to promote public welfare. Consists of forty-one chapters on health issues of the day. "Teaches prevention of dis-ease and cultivates self-reliance during impending illness. Further, it exposes some of the abuses and superstitions that still exist in the practice of medicine as a result of ignorance, indifference, incompetence and commercialism of doctors and patients." The distinguishing feature of the work is its entertaining style and sociological aspect.

Subscription price $2.50 a copy.

No. 5

ASTROLOGY FROM A TO Z

By ERWIN STANLEY MILLS

This book consists of two parts. In the first part trial-readings are given which have brought orders by the hundreds of thousands for fuller readings and, also, the full readings that were sent out at a dollar each; in the second part the author tells, candidly, his experiences in the business of Astrology. The story is made doubt-proof by governmental documentary evidence and many of the details are astonishing, to say the least. The work is nearly finished. To bring out speedily this most interesting, useful and financially promising book the Co-Operative Publishing Company, Inc., offers a few of its shares to persons interested in the author, his work and its possibilities. Price per share $100.

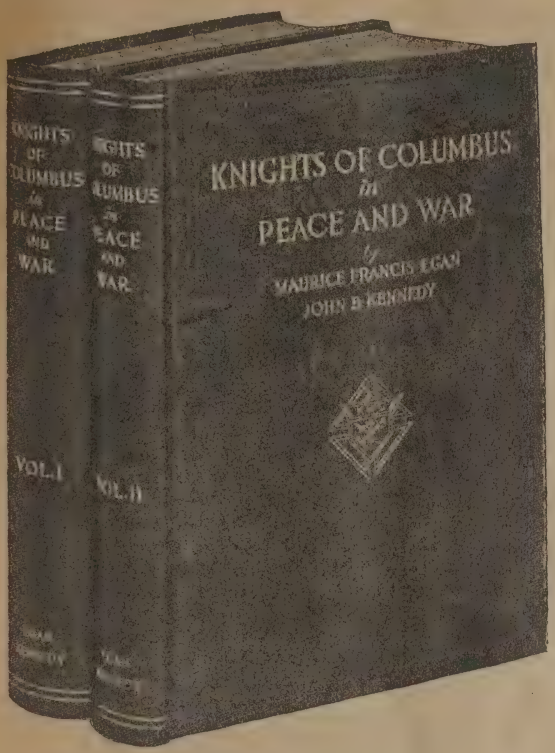
The BOOK OF THE WAR

The Knights of Columbus in Peace and War



Of all the thousands of books on the late War none surpasses this for interest and inspiration.

It is a golden record, a redeeming narrative of purest charity in all that welter of hatred and blood.

No other organization, not even the Red Cross with its world-wide appeal and its millions in money, can compare with the achievements of the K. of C.

Here is an incontestible document of what the ordinary Catholic does as a matter of course.

Instinctively, without appeal or suggestion even from Church authority, these men leaped into the breach as the great Catholic force for all, Jew and Gentile, Protestant and Catholic, for all without distinction or favor, with their immortal motto: Everybody Welcome; Everything Free.

What should the Church or the nation have done without the Knights of Columbus?

Who will ever appreciate what they did for the morale of our army and navy—for mothers, fathers, sisters, sweethearts, for all humanity?

Is it not the brightest spot in all the War?

Not the slightest achievement of this great order is the account they have kept like faithful stewards of the moneys entrusted to them, and the record of their loving service in the pages of these two noble volumes.

Here is an imperishable memorial, to which unborn generations may appeal as an irrefutable evidence of Catholic patriotism.

We owe the Knights for this history not less than we owe them for their enterprise in war work. The same spirit inspired both, chivalrous devotion to the fair name of the Church which fitted them to do both.

The second volume alone contains nearly 100,000 names of Catholics from this one organization serving in army and navy, and serving valiantly, as the two portraits in this volume show, the first American soldier to die in action, a K. of C. layman, the last another K. of C., a Chaplain.

Here is a legacy for our children's children. No other record, national or ecclesiastical, can be so complete, so accurate, so inspiring.

It is the history of all the K. of C. War Work and of the organization itself from its birth as a parochial society of eleven members in 1882, to its present development as a powerful international body of 600,000 members.

Two Volumes, 416 pages each, size 7¼ x 9¾, Blue Holliston Cloth. Gold stamping, gold tops, silk headbands, illustrated end sheets, 37 full-page illustrations printed by the rotogravure process, text printed on fine antique paper, appendix illustrated with charts and diagrams, complete index, packed in neat cardboard box.

Send check for $5.25 and we shall send you these volumes postpaid.

Price subject to increase.

FICTION

UP AGAINST IT

By VARICK VANARDY
Author of "The Lady of the Night Wind," "Something Doing," etc. Net $2.00

Dan Randall, a man of mystery, believing himself to be a fugitive from justice, because of the wiles and snares of his supposed "best friend," undertakes a big financial venture in the Great Northwest, and finds that he is genuinely "Up Against It," in the toils and meshes of a gigantic scheme for his undoing. Even the girl he loves, and for whom he would gladly sacrifice all, is apparently in the league with his enemies.

While it is distinctively a story of love and adventure, yet this novel contains all of the pep and more of the usual Vanardy novel. There are scraps a plenty and some real and thrilling fights, and gun-play.

DESERT LOVE

By JOAN CONQUEST. Net $2.00

An exquisitely romantic tale of Cairo and the great desert—as colorful as the Arabian nights—as poetic as the Shakespearean Sonnet. It deals with a people as simple as children—fierce as untamed animals, but dominated by traditions as ancient as the pyramids.

A story of passionate love and thrilling adventures, wherein two young people, one a king of the desert, and the other a charming young English woman, cast convention aside, and live their own lives in the Desert Wilderness.

EYES OF INNOCENCE

By MAURICE LeBLANC
Author of "The Secret of Sarek," "The Golden Triangle," etc. Net $1.50

A romance by the creator of Arsene Lupin from a new angle and in a new vein.

A beautiful and mysterious young woman, posing as a widow for the sake of propriety, yet entirely ignorant of the ways of the world, faces and overcomes plots and snares and avoids pitfalls by the very power and influence of her purity and innocence.

The theme of this book is stupendous, and absorbing: The irresistable force of purity and innocence against the supposedly impassable barrier of personified evil.

THE SECRET OF SAREK

By MAURICE LeBLANC
Author of "The Golden Triangle," etc. Net $1.75

A marvelous plot uncannily conceived in the brain of the creator of Arsene Lupin, and developed with all the deft skill of that master of mysteries and detective fiction, Maurice LeBlanc.

GLORY RIDES THE RANGE

(A Story of a Golden Girl in the Golden West)
By ETHEL and JAMES DORRANCE
Authors of "Flames of the Blue Ridge," Net $1.75

An absorbing mystery tale of Arizona.

THE DOCTOR OF PIMLICO

By WILLIAM Le QUEUX. Net $1.75

The double personalities are so cleverly handled in this gripping detective story that the reader will put it down at the end with a sigh of regret that it is not twice as long.

PAID OUT

By J. PERCIVAL BESSELL. Net $1.60

A detective story with a psychological interest and pull that is irresistible.

SOMETHING DOING

By VARICK VANARDY
Author of "The Lady of the Night Wind," etc. Net $1.60

From the opening sentence to the closing one, this account of the further adventures of "The Two-Faced Man" is compelling, thrilling and pleasing.

FLAMES OF THE BLUE RIDGE

By ETHEL and JAMES DORRANCE. Net $1.60

A stirring tale of moonshining from a new angle.

IN THE SHADOW OF THE HILLS

By GEORGE C. SHEDD. Net $1.60

Woven into this brilliant tapestry of swift action and color, gun-play, and lawless dealing, is a highly intriguing love story.

JUVENILES

Salesmanship and Business Efficiency

By J. S. KNOX

More than one hundred thousand copies of Salesmanship and Business Efficiency have been used in this country and fourteen foreign countries. Many concerns have bought large quantities for their men. One concern, the biggest of its kind in the United States, has used fifteen thousand copies in five years to train its own salesmen. During this period its profits increased four hundred forty-seven per cent.

This book has also been used as a text in over four hundred schools in the United States, Canada and Japan.

Salesmanship and Business Efficiency has had a greater sale than any other salesmanship book because it fills a greater need.

Mr. O. Salisbury, Sales Manager of the Pennsylvania Consumers Oil Company, Council Bluffs, Iowa, says: "Salesmanship and Business Efficiency" has been worth one thousand dollars to me in cold cash."

Order a copy of this great book and if you do not find it the most practical, the most inspirational and the most valuable work on Salesmanship you ever read, your money will be refunded upon request.

Red cloth binding with gold title. Prepaid $3.00.

CAN YOU READ HUMAN NATURE? Get

THE SCIENCE OF JUDGING MEN

By Dr. Edwin Morrell

This book contains 145 pages on the art of reading human nature at a glance.

It classifies men into the three types, tells what the different shapes and sizes of noses and faces mean, gives psycho-physical analysis of a number of world leaders and also gives special instruction for the salesman, telling him just how to approach and handle various types of men.

At least eight people out of every ten who see it are immediately interested and want a copy.

"There are no meatless pages in 'The Science of Judging Men.' The author gets right down to business at the very beginning and handles his subject in a way that carries conviction. Men in business are necessarily required to judge men, and the information in this volume will be very helpful towards judging rightly." Chas. W. Mears, President Cleveland Advertising Club.

THE WORKS OF ANTHONY EUWER

Author Euwer is one of America's rising young poets. His books, often whimsical, show touches of real genius. In attractive bindings, they are desirable gift books. An excellent pick-up line.

THE LIMERATOMY

Illustrated throughout by the Author. 96 pp. Cloth, $1.00; Limp Leather, $2.00

"The Limeratomy" is really a Limerick Anatomy. It humorously deals with all parts of the body from "The Nut" to "the Pigeon Toes," and tells of all human complaints from the cold in the head to bow-legs. It is for everyone who has an anatomy. It is a scream from cover to cover. It is the best limerick book in recent years.

RHYMES OF OUR VALLEY

Frontispiece by the Author. 96 pp. Cloth, $1.00; Limp Leather, $2.00.

This is Anthony Euwer's big book of verse showing life among the fruit growers of the Northwest. It is full of the tragedy and humor in their lives. "The poems which make up this attractive volume are American in theme, and American, too, in their fresh, buoyant spirit and strong colloquialism."—Literary Digest.

CHRISTOPHER CRICKET ON CATS

Illustrated throughout by the author. 56 pp. Paper Boards only. 75 cents.
Introduction by Wallace Irwin.

"Cats" is a huge smile from cover to cover. You can read it in thirty minutes but you won't forget it in thirty years. It drops into verse, it ambles in prose, it hesitates over many whimsical drawings by the author.

"Feeds and Feeding"

Eighteenth Edition Ready Oct. 15

By W. A. HENRY
(formerly Dean, Wisconsin College of Agriculture)
and
F. B. MORRISON
(Assistant Director, Wisconsin College of Agriculture)

This volume contains about 700 pages of helpful information on the feeding of farm animals. In it the most important results of feeding trials carried on by experiment stations and scientists are presented, supplemented by the experience of successful stockmen. Economy in stock feeding is given special attention.

"Feeds and Feeding" has been quoted as authority in the publications of practically every Experiment Station in the United States, which is true of no other book on agriculture. The time of a person working constantly for three years was required to revise the Appendix Tables showing the composition and nutrients in American feeding stuffs. These tables are copyrighted and appear in no other book on stock feeding.

Though quoted by the college professor, "Feeds and Feeding" is so simply written that any farm boy can understand it. It is used as a text or reference book in every agricultural college in the country. Thousands of copies have been purchased by practical farmers and stockmen.

"Feeds and Feeding" may be secured postpaid at $3.85 per copy.

"Feeds and Feeding, Abridged"

By the same authors

Revised Edition Now Ready

This book is a shorter, simplified edition of "Feeds and Feeding." It is about half the size of the larger book and is designed chiefly for use as a textbook in high schools giving classes in stock feeding. It is also used as a reference book by farmers who want to get all the essential principles of livestock feeding and care in the briefest, simplest form possible.

"Feeds and Feeding, Abridged" is copiously illustrated. The two last chapters give a thorough discussion of the feeding and care of Poultry, a subject not treated in the larger book. Each chapter closes with a number of well-chosen questions, to aid in review of the subject matter. The book is heartily endorsed by high school instructors in agriculture all over the country.

The price postpaid is $2.75 per copy

THE DEVIL'S DESPAIR

Is a rare guide to enlightened Bible students: and an argument-settler on inspiration

It is a poem in which Belzibub is allowed to speak in his own defense: and draws a vigorous comparison of his own career compared with the greater atrocities committed, or commanded, by more barbarous devils than himself: and with no pardonable excuse that appeals to the unfettered just mind.

Finally, the dejected Belzibub, finding his dominion usurped by his aggressive contemporaries, decides to abdicate and reform.

The impartial reader who is disposed to "Give the Devil his due," must see the justice of the work.

The lengthy introduction, in prose, is considered by many readers as being worth the price of the volume, which also contains over 90 bible quotations. Furthermore, the book contains sundry other poems, including Yukon, Alaska and Rocky Mountain rhymes, &c., &c.

It is original and vigorous throughout. Spiritualists indorse it, pioneers love it, and preachers are shocked by its astounding truth.

The Tale of the Spinning Wheel

By
ELIZABETH C. BARNEY BUEL
State Regent, Connecticut Daughters of the American Revolution.

Illustrated by
EMILY NOYES VANDERPOEL
Author of "Color Problems" and "Chronicles of a Pioneer School."

Press Notices

"A dainty and attractive little sketch and will be found a choice gift for the holidays."—Hartford Courant.

"'The Tale of the Spinning Wheel' is a prettily bound book containing a graciously worded paper on the art of linen and woolen manufacture as practised in New England.* * * With due reference to the antiquity of the art, Mrs. Buel weaves some pleasing details of the nearer colonial period with quotations of interest from letters and diaries."—Springfield Republican.

"The author's main idea is that the simple homeliness of the time of the spinning wheel, with all the dignity of labor which its use implied, ought not to be allowed to escape from our modern civilization. There is certainly much truth in this conception, and Mrs. Buel has done a good thing in bringing it home so forcibly to her hearers and readers."—Providence Journal.

The book is an example of the artistic work of the University Press, being bound in white and gold, with design of musket and distaff. The illustrations are printed in sepia on the broad margins or let into the text, which is printed in handsome type.

Size 6⅝x9 inches; 60 pp. Price $1.25, postage additional, 8 cents.

For Sale by the Author, Litchfield, Conn.

Author of

"CARMEN ARIZA." The dramatic story of a girl who rescued a priest from his chains of bigotry and death through her working knowledge of obsolete, war causing human beliefs, of the poisonous weeds of mentalized religion, and the suppositional opposite nature of evil and the methods of combating it. Its treatment of the questions of a "future state," of death, matter, and the origin and destiny of the human mind is the most remarkable and successful ever embodied in a novel. "THE MAYOR OF FILBERT." (Has Been Filmed.) Strange story of the proprietor of two saloons and a brewery saved from the curse of his own business. Offers that sort of education which is a stronger protection to government than a standing army. Particularly for wives and mothers to give their husbands and sons, as it is a book for men. "THE DIARY OF JEAN EVARTS." In this beautifully written treatise, composed by the author in the sun-kissed hills of California, a young girl in the last stages of tuberculosis, hopeless of human aid and denouncing God and man-made creeds, receives a new truth—and with it a new sense of life. How this was accomplished is the vital message which this book has carried around the world to thousands of helpless, discouraged, sin-weary sufferers, becoming truly as "light shining in dark places." THE ICE LENS has qualities of technic, expression and idea which I recognized as of value.—Richard Burton, University of Minnesota.

I am reading your book TEN YEARS AT YALE, and I certainly admire the frank and straight-forward way in which you have attacked the college situation. We need more men of your type of courage. That book is a gem.—William A. McKeever, University of Kansas.

THE NEW FRATERNITY is a powerful and much-needed message. In my judgment you have courageously attacked the chief evils in American College life.—George Elliott Howard, University of Nebraska.

Crystals from a Human Secretion

Crystals from A Known Solution

This Atlas contains two hundred and forty-eight pages, including one hundred and fourteen Photomicrographs of known Crystallizable Chemical Salts.

In compiling these photomicrographs no attempt has been made to exhaust the possible chemical combinations, but rather to present typical crystalline forms of various salts known to exist in the body tissues and fluids under normal and pathological conditions, thereby placing at the disposal of the student of research, auxiliary help toward the characteristics which confront him through the microscope.

WM. McAFEE GOODWIN

Author and Publisher, District National Bank Building, 1406 G St., N. W., Washington, D. C.
Cloth bound only. $1.50 net. Thoroughly indexed.

PRESS NOTICES

CHRISTIAN WORLD—This is a timely, impersonal, dispassionate, analytical, unanswerable discussion of the weaknesses and inconsistencies of the Christian Science Church. It overflows with facts which provide the ground-work of the author's incisive arraignment . . . and is as clear as sunshine and as irrefutable as the decalogue.

THE EVANGELICAL MESSENGER—The spirit in which his exposures of inconsistencies in the organization are made is very commendable, and adds merit and pungency to his arguments and forceful statements. It is the only book of its kind on the market as far as we have any knowledge. The author has been very careful in supporting his statements of fact with profuse quotations. . . . His exposures of inconsistencies are mainly applicable to the church manual. It will be a very difficult task for any advocate of that church organization to refute the conclusive arguments of this trenchant writer and authoritative author. His versatility and frankness constitute quite an asset to his undertaking. . . . We wish the book God-speed on its mission of love and of usefulness.

THE PRESBYTERIAN ADVANCE — He brings and sustains many charges against the church he left. . . . There is added interest in the fact that Mr. Goodwin frequently appeals from the customs of that church to the teachings of the New Testament as well as to the teachings of Mrs. Eddy. Good will come if many evangelical church members will read this book. . . .

OR

The Dynamics of the Heavens

The chief achievement of this work is the identification of the RESULTANT ATTRACTION OF THE UNIVERSE OF STARS as the source of the so-called centrifugal forces, which heretofore have been known to science only in name. Among the myriad of cosmic problems solved are: the vindication of the (lately impugned) literal accuracy of Newton's law of the inverse square, the secular acceleration of the Moon, the anomaly of Mercury's perihelion movement, and the size and elements of the Sun's orbit.

WAYNE WHIPPLE BOOKS

The Story of Young George Washington

The Boston Advertiser in a long notice said: "This is not a history, except in so far as it includes the events of Washington's life up to the time of his marriage. It is a story for boys of the boy George; not the young prig of Mr. Weems' tales, but a living boy whose doings all American children can understand. His disappointment when his mother begs him not to go to sea, his surveying expeditions, his early fights with the Indians, and his later exploits at the Allegheny and at Fort Duquesne, are all recounted with liveliness, and with an understanding of the human values. The 'Father of His Country' becomes something more than a mere figurehead, a hero of history; he is brought back from the land of mythology, and made to live." And the Springfield Republican says: "The author has exercised excellent judgment in selecting his matter, and a capital story results."

The Story of Young Abraham Lincoln

The story of Abraham Lincoln's life is one of the most inspiring in American annals. Mr. Whipple has made a life study of Lincoln, and his graphic and vigorous book is crowded with anecdotes, adventures, and incidents—every one of which is true. The book should be read by every boy who makes the mistake of believing that success depends upon good chances. No boy who became famous had fewer chances than young Lincoln. He came into the world intellectually naked; was his own teacher; believed that all men are equal before God and before the law, and on this issue reached the Presidency of the United States; saw out the most gigantic civil war that the world has ever witnessed, and lived his life "with charity toward all and with malice toward none." A faith like Lincoln's would transform the world if our hearts could but catch its glow.

The influence of Lincoln's life will surely go on until the end of time. Think of what a simple, true-hearted, wholesome man may become to his country and its people.

The Story of Young Benjamin Franklin

The Record of Christian Work says: "Boys and girls will read and reread this book. The events of young Franklin's life from his earliest experiences, before the time he ran away from Boston, to the end of his eighty-four years, as here recited, are instructive and entertaining. Those who have not fully appreciated the life and work of 'B. Franklin, Printer,' will surely have a new view of this great man after reading this interesting book, which is heartily recommended to all young people."

"Many quotations from Franklin's 'Autobiography' show the keenness, depth and sagacity of this great philosopher, statesman and patriot. Love of truth, love of country, and love for humanity strongly predominate. As the author understandingly interprets Franklin's character, he points out, 'With him religion was tenderly interwoven with patriotism, and patriotism with him was religion of country.'

"Franklin's was truly a great life, and the honor he received while he lived was earned by hard labor and self-sacrifice. Whatever glory he had did not change his modesty and humbleness of spirit. To the end of his days, Franklin served his country with foresight, unselfishness, loyalty, and noble devotion."

Bound in Cloth, with Cover Designs in Colors, and with Decorative End Sheets. Large 12mo. Each volume containing Eight Original Full-page Colored Plates.

BILL of the U. S. A.

A Book of War Verses

By KENNETH GRAHAM DUFFIELD

Cloth, Ornamental, 50 cents, net.
Imitation Morocco, 75 cents, net.
Full Leather, $1.25, net.

"Somebody's boy has crossed th' sea,
T' do th' fightin' for you and me,
Let's call him 'Bill'—he's any man's son
That carries a pack an' shoulders a gun."

'laims a place of prominence among the 'tic effusions of the great struggle.—Demo- t and Chronicle, Rochester, N. Y.

Bill" is the young fellow who answered call to the colors, and this little book tells about him in homely verse. The sadness the old home after he had gone, along with pride of the father and mother and all people of the little town, are set forth in s, that, despite the dialect in which they written (or, perhaps, because of it) make share in the exultation and the grief. Mr. ffield, for the most part, woos no feminine se, but he has found a masculine god of the ming, metrical line who has given him the ret of swinging, blood-stirring verse.— ning Monitor, Concord, N. H.

Plain of name and soul, Bill, the subject the verses in this little book, is typically nerican. Bill's father, Bill's mother, letters Bill, sewing for Bill, and a prayer for Bill each the theme of a bit of rhyme. Mr. ffield's verse is full of patriotism and heart- erest.—The Leader, Pittsburgh, Pa.

War verse in high and fine spirit, with the ich of homeliness which will recommend ill" to all Americans.—Christian Advocate, w York, N. Y.

There is a vigorous martial spirit in the lect poems entitled "Bill of the U. S. A." . Duffield understands American manhood ich in a war like this will never sheathe sword until the Hun is conquered.—Post press, Rochester, N. Y.

The verses appeal to the great body of Americans who have a service flag in their windows.—St. Louis Republic.

Every parent who has a boy "over there" will read it with pleasure, and, in more than one part, with moistened eyes.—Presbyterian Standard.

A little work which cannot but appeal to everybody whose "boy has crossed th' sea." In it the poet of the soldier speaks; an artist who understands the American soldier—his heart and his soul.—Evening Express, Portland, Me.

All the fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers of soldiers will enjoy reading these verses about Bill, for he is their boy, wherever they may live.—Daily Press, Utica, N. Y.

Every line tingles with patriotic fervor.—Milwaukee Journal.

A little volume of poems that give cheer and tell the story of the soldier in his own words. It breathes the fighting spirit.—Commercial Tribune, Cincinnati, O.

There is plenty of human emotion in the little book, emotion which springs from experiences which are often both heart-rending and ennobling.—Evening Gazette, Worcester Mass.

Two Years Before the Mast

By RICHARD HENRY DANA

Richard Henry Dana, the author of Two Years Before the Mast, while at Harvard University, which he entered in 1831, became troubled with an affection of the eyes that prevented him from continuing his studies. He therefore determined to see what an entire change of life would do towards curing his malady, and with this end in view he shipped as an ordinary seaman on boa a trading vessel bound for California. He was away just over two years, retu ing in September, 1836, being then in his twenty-first year. His book, which w published in 1840, is a faithful and detailed account of the voyage.

Two Years Before the Mast has probably been as widely read as any wo from the pen of any American author. It is distinguished alike by its vivid d scriptive power and its humor, while the fidelity with which it depicts the har ships of a sailor's life has helped greatly to bring about a better state of thin in the mercantile marine of both America and England.

Thy Kingdom Come. An Appeal for Home Missions. Cloth 7:
Flexible boards, cut flush, round corners ..... .5(

The author is zealously devoted to the cause of Home Mission work of the Lutheran Church of America, a Church whose Home Mission opportunities he considers to be without parallel in the history of Christianity. In a former work, "Lutheran Home Missions," he treats of the theory, plans, and methods of Home Missions. In this present work his aim is to arouse interest in Lutheran Home Missions. Starting from the prayer, "Thy Kingdom Come!" he points out the duty of the Church to take an interest in and pursue the work of Home Missions. Viewing the subject from different angles, he has succeeded well in bringing out the most telling points in his plea for a more vigorous prosecution of Home Mission work No one can read it without being impressed with the truth and reasonableness in the statements made. He does not address himself to any particular branch of the Lutheran Church, and the book will prove useful and profitable to all.

POET LORE

PÓET LORE is the oldest and largest review in the English language devoted to poetry and drama. In its pages appears the best work of the world's greatest writers, and for thirty years it has been an active pioneer in promoting an interest in international letters. Maeterlinck, Hauptmann, Sudermann, Schnitzler, D'Annunzio, Gorki, Andreyev, Bjornson and Synge are among those POET LORE has introduced to the American public.

"Those who love the best in poetry and drama will find in POET LORE a literary feast."—The Pittsburg Post

"It is a most excellent indication of the genuine love of high literature that the editors have been able to bring together so many distinct contributions of a suggestive and critical character. There is a freshness about the work which is inspiriting, and the study is of that which is worth while, not the tiresome praise of the second rate."—Atlantic Monthly

"A periodical that stands steadfastly for good literature and for the value of poetry in all walks of life."—The Dial

Established 1889. Published quarterly. $1.50 a copy. $6.00 a year

THE JOURNAL OF ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY

THE JOURNAL OF ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY stands as the representative of the scientific study of the abnormal phases of mind. It publishes the researches and practical conclusions of the most eminent representatives in this branch of study. To those who desire more than a vague general and more or less unreliable account of the present position and attainments of abnormal or medical psychology, THE JOURNAL OF ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY is the only source available. As official organ of the American Psychopathological Association and the British Psycho-Medical Society, its standing and authority are assured.

——THE SCHOOL BULLETIN PUBLICATIONS——

The School Bulletin

And New York State Educational Journal

Established 1874. 24 pages, 9x14. $1.00 a year

The School Bulletin is one of the three oldest educational journals in America, and the only one of them that has been under the same ownership and management from the beginning. It was the only American school journal which received the gold medal at the Paris Exposition of 1889; it received the highest award offered at the Chicago Exposition of 1893, the diploma pronouncing it "of the greatest interest and historical value to educators of all grades"; and it received two gold medals at the Paris Exposition of 1900. Its editor had charge of the department of Educational Publications at the World's Fair Congress of 1893, and prepared the article on Educational Journalism printed in the 50th anniversary volume of the National Educational association for 1906.

In the feature of educational news it has never had a rival. Its chronicles of what has happened in New York schools since its establishment are unmatched in educational literature, and it has taken note of whatever has happened in other states that involved general principles. It is abundantly illustrated, especially in portraits, of which more than 300 have appeared in a single volume.

It also publishes the most important circulars and decisions of the Education Department, and records of the meetings held and circulars issued by the District Superintendents; in short it is indispensable to the New York teacher who would be well-informed.

Dr. Sherman Williams, Chief of School Libraries, wrote us May 25, 1913: "I have read the School Bulletin from the first number, I think. I read no other periodical with so much satisfaction. Your reports of educational meetings are not equalled by any other writer. Your general surveys of the educational field are very remarkable. Your knowledge of human nature is unusual. Your wealth of information is marvellous. All these qualities enable you to make the School Bulletin the remarkable paper that it is."

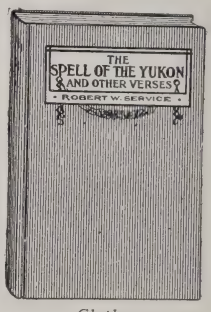
And Other Verses. "Songs of a Sourdough."



Cloth

Service's first great book was originally called "Songs of a Sourdough," and is thus known to thousands of readers in Canada and England. In the United States it is even better known by the title "The Spell of the Yukon." It has already become a classic. Here are poems of irresistible truth and power which hold the reader enthralled.

The scene is the Yukon, and the characters are real men —men of flesh and blood, who talk in direct and virile language, who have primal instincts and passions, who toil, sin, dream, accomplish and despair. Strong and outspoken are these poems—a man's message to men—yet fit for the reading of all, because they are true. This popular book is now published in three sizes and varied styles to suit every taste.

RHYMES OF A RED CROSS MAN

By ROBERT W. SERVICE

Flexible

By all odds the most powerful and popular book of poems by a single author emanating from the Great War. Written amid the din and roar of battle, these vivid pen pictures show the sunny side of war. A writer in The Dial, voicing many other opinions, says:

"Detail after detail of life at the front takes its place in the various narratives, adding touches of excitement, pathos, terror, tenderness, or humor, and in the end imbuing this particular reader with a closer sense of life in the Great War than any correspondent, novelist, or poet has yet given him—making it so natural, straightforward, first-hand, vibrant, that if you are like me you will close the book with the painful silence in the ears that follows great sound and the flush in the head that comes from the sight of broken bodies and the squeeze in the throat that comes in the presence of honest human emotion. It is not a criticism from without, but a cry from within—dignifying even 'Tipperary.' We have been inquiring for the poetry of the War. In my judgment, here it is."

BALLADS OF A CHEECHAKO

By ROBERT W. SERVICE

Do you know what a Cheechako is? If not, read this book and find out! Mr. Service makes the men of whom he writes in this companion book to "The Spell of the Yukon" live in a manner so true, so realistic, that the reader lives with them the free, broad life of fellowship of the campfire, of strife, of toil, of hardship. The keen wind of the Northland sweeps across its pages, and one rises refreshed, as from a tramp through the snows.

The "Ballads" come in three different editions, same size and style of the preceding volume. Together they give an unforgettable chronicle of the Yukon country.

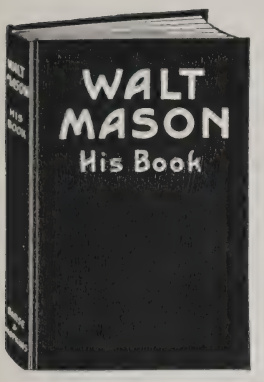
WALT MASON



HIS BOOK

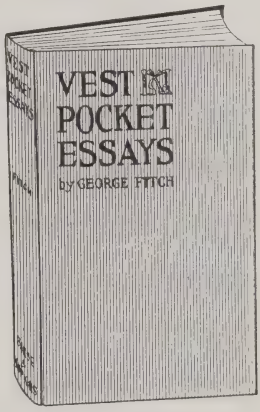
With an introduction by Irvin S. Cobb

Walt Mason's prose poetry is perhaps the most widely read of contemporary writers. It has appeared in the leading magazines and newspapers throughout the country. William Allen White summarizes his work aptly in saying:

"How many millions of people are cheered year by year as they turn every day to those quaint verses! Here is a man doing a man's work in the world, making life brighter and more cheerful and more sensible in this vale of tears. Millions in money could do no more—if as much—as this man does at his day's work."

Cloth. Size 5½ x 8⅛ inches. Illustrated. $1.50.

VEST POCKET ESSAYS



By GEORGE FITCH

Author of "At Good Old Siwash," etc.

"Vest Pocket Essays" are short talks—about four hundred words each—on miscellaneous subjects. "From Hope to Hash," "From Cabbages to Kings." Fitch's humor is good-natured, yet there is a wealth of meaning behind his fun. It is above all things a philosophic humor, though he is never cynically smart, and when he takes certain institutions to task he does it in a kindly manner.

DION AND THE SIBYLS. By Miles Keon. This famous novel of the time of Christ is in the front rank of the Messianic stories; and while all thoughtful persons will admit its equality with Ben Hur, a few will claim for it superiority. Besides the young Greek hero, Paulus, and his sister, Agatha, the romances of whose lives run like thin, golden threads through the darker strands of earthly wars and court intrigues in the Roman Empire, and converge to a chastened happiness under the divine light of the world's Redeemer, we meet the great Emperor Augustus in his old age, and many of the scholars and philosophers to whom he delighted to listen.

I. C. CLARKE'S GREAT NOVELS

MISS CLARKE HAS BEEN ACCLAIMED THE GREATEST LIVING CATHOLIC NOVELIST

Each Volume Contains from 400-500 Pages. Handsomely Bound in Silk Cloth. Price, each, $2.00 net; postage, 15 cents extra.

LADY TRENT'S DAUGHTER. A story of intense heart interest, with an absorbingly interesting and strangely original plot.

EUNICE. The heroine is a strong original character, who gradually wins her way into the reader's heart.

THE DEEP HEART. The plot is deftly worked out and its interest admirably sustained throughout.

THE ELSTONES. This novel is remarkable for the characteristic and distinctive quality of stalwart Catholicity which it possesses. There is woven into it a love story, charming and winsome, very human and appealing.

CHILDREN OF EVE. With palpitating heart the reader follows this trusting and delicate heroine through her trials and agonies, and rejoices when she emerges again into the brightness of happiness.

WHOSE NAME IS LEGION. In this story we see Miss Clarke in a new light—as a student of occult things, with an intimate knowledge of spiritualistic phenomena, both genuine and imitation.

THE REST HOUSE. Interesting enough to cheer the most blasé novel reader.

BY THE BLUE RIVER. The book is a very enthralling one, full of charm and interest, deeply religious in tone, full also of pathos.

ONLY ANNE. In writing this novel, the author has arranged a singularly fascinating plot and again demonstrated the beauty of her clear style, the attraction of her other books.

PRISONERS' YEARS. "Prisoners' Years" is a novel, strong yet tender—a story of love, of human nature, but a human nature uplifted and glorified by the spirit.

THE SECRET CITADEL. In "The Secret Citadel" Miss Clarke has taken for her theme the question of the bitter fruit of a mixed marriage, with its broken promises and consequent suffering.

FINE CLAY. The tale holds the ardor of perfect love, unrestrained, complete and strong.

The Publications of
BONI & LIVERIGHT
Including Fall, 1920, List

Publication of most of our important Fall, 1919 and early 1920 books was greatly postponed on account of the strike. We do not believe that the book stores or the book buyers should be flooded with new publications and for that reason we are issuing this season a smaller list of books than usual. We hope the excellence of our selections will win us new friends. We know that the beauty and fine workmanship displayed in the format of our publications will be an added reason for looking for the Boni & Liveright imprint.

THE THREE MUSKETEERS
By Alexander Dumas
Edited by Carolyn Sherwin Bailey

This edition of the Dumas masterpiece is a real achievement he editing of a famous classic, presenting it in practically the ct words of the author, yet by elimination of questionable pas- es, making of it a book which the most conscientious parents not hesitate to place in the hands of their children.
